MICHAEL MULAHY, of Red Barrington,

The cause of the horrible mishap is briefly as follows: A construction train in charge of Conductor Humphrey and Engineer Clyde White has been engaged in hauling gravel from the pit. The killed and injured were engaged in ballasting the roadway at a point three miles north of the pit. After the last train had been unloaded the men boarded train had been unloaded the men boarded the cars, which were being pushed ahead of the engine, to come to their boarding camp a few hundred yards south of the gravel pit. The train was running at a hazardous speed, and when it arrived at the gravel pit, which few hundred yards and the frain was running at a hazardous speed, the train was running at a hazardous speed, and when it arrived at the gravel pit, which was to be passed without stopping, the switch was open and the train entered the siding and collided with some empty cars standing on the pit. CAUSES THAT LED TO THE SINKING OF THE AJAX.

LONDON, Aug. 16.-The Captain of the steamer Runeborg, which sank the pleasure steamer Ajax, off Helsingfors, early last Monday morning, says that he ran his vessel on the wrong side of the Ajax in order to avoid shallow water. He pleads that he had no option to do otherwise, because the Ajax did not allow his vessel sufficient Ajax did not allow his vessel sufficient room. Although the Ajax was licensed to carry only seventy-five persons, she had 110 passengers aboard. The number of lives lost was nearer eighty than forty. The rush of steam, the light from the moon as well as from the vessel's furnace and the lanterns, the hundreds of heads and arms in the water struggling to catch hold of anything that could be found, the fight of many to throw off those clinging around them, the shrieks of the women and children, all combined to make a scene that Dore would have failed to paint. Divers report that many of the unhappy victims are now lying in a mass in the saloon of the Ajax, their bodies and faces disfigured and distorted to an extent dreadful to behold, making it extremely difficult to handle them.

LOON LAKE, N. Y., Aug. 16.—An itinerant Italian, a boy and a bear, who have been traveling through the mountains, took shelter on Saturday night under a tree when the terrible rainstorm came on. A flash of lightning struck the tree, splitting it open, tore open the skull of the man, passed down his body into that of the little son, whose foot touched that of the father, and passed through the boy and also killed the bear. The bodies were buried together.

THE STATE'S CASE.

How the Prosecution Expects to Convict Lizzie Borde FALL RIVER, Mass., Aug. 15, -The only subject discussed in Fall River is that relating to the prospects for securing a preliminary hearing for Miss Lizzie Borden next Monday. There is a very general opinion among lawyers and citizens that Judge Blaisdeil should not pre side over the preliminary examination on Monday next, because, having heard the State's side of the case that was presented in its fullest and strongest light, he must be prejudiced in forming his opinion; in fact onsenting to a warrant, he has already made his opinion public.

At a hearing before a justice who is ignorant of all the real facts more would have to be exposed to warrant her holding, than at a nearing before a justice who is already fully nformed as to the State's case. The objec of the State should be the conviction of the guilty party, rather than the establishment that it has not been in error thus far. Marshall Hilliard's statement concerning the published opinions of the various news-papers of the country has given rise to much speculation as to the character of the evi-dence that the prosecution can submit at the trial. It will be of a positive nature and will be based on statements made by Bridget Sullivan, relating partially to Miss Lizzle's manner before and after the crime, her instructions to wash windows in remote parts of the house, also her conduct towards her step-mother the past six months.

Miss Emma, who went to Taunton to visit her sister as paual, found her in an un-her sister as usual, found her in an un-changed mind. The preliminary trial is not now regarded as of special importance in fixing the responsibility for the crime, ex-cept that it gives the defense an opportunity to measure the strength of the State's case. It is an even chance that the verdict be probably guilty. If the verdict should be be probably guilty. If the verdict should be probably not guilty, the State could still insist on placing the case before the Grandjury and demanding an indictment over a discharge ordered by a lower court.

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union and the Young Woman's Union held a special meeting last night and passed the following resolutions:

We offer profound sympathy to Miss Lizzie A. Borden in the sad and painful bereavement which has befallen her by the recent tragic death of her parents. We would also declare our unshaken faith in her as a fellow worker and sister, tenderly beloved, and would assure her of our constant earnest prayers that she may be supported under the unprecedented trials and sorrows flow resting upon her.

Miss Borden is treasurer of the Young Woman's Union, and has been prominent in union work.

Much stress is placed by those who think Lizzle Borden guilty on the fact of an apparent untruth in her statement that at the time of the murder she had gone to the hayloft t get lead to use for sinkers on a fishing line.

ent untruth in her statement that at the time of the murder she had gone to the hayjoft t get lead to use for sinkers on a fishing line. On this point the remarks of Charles H. Bryant, who was engaged as an expert mason to break open chimneys in the Borden house in search of concealed weapons, are important "Before saying anything about what I saw in the Borden house," he began, "I want to call attention to a point that seems not to have reached the inquest.

"John Donnelly, the hackman, was among the first to enter the barn, and walked all over the loft. Then up goes Officer Medley and takes a walk around and goes before the Coroner with the highly important information that he examined the dust-covered floor of the barn very carefully and could find no tracks, althoush he said he could easily distinguish his own.

"Now, if he could distinguish his own so easily, why didn't he find John Donnelly's, and if he couldn't find John Donnelly's heavy prints, how could he expect to find Lizzle Borden's? The air is full of theories. I'd like to hear a few people explain that."

Then in reference to his own explorations he said:

"I was engaged as an expert and carried out the instructions of the authorities. I do not know Lizzle or Emma Borden, one from the other, but both were in the house and in the house, and told them so, put still the District Attorney told me to go ahead, and I dug into them.

"That finished, I asked Miss Borden if there were any flues in the garret, such as might have been put in for a stove at some time, and she said she did not know, but I had better look. I made a careful examination, but found nothing.

"Then we made inquiries about an alleged cistern said to be in the cellar, and the girls said there had been at some time, but it was an old wooden affair, which had doubtless been filled up. At any rate, she not seen it for a long time. They told us what part of the cellar it had been in, and we pried round there for some time with a crowbar and found nothing."

"During the whole time the girls, as I say, were at our service and expressed every willingness to show us through the house, giving us the keys to all the rooms."

"I was in every room of the house except the front entry, and observed things closely all the while."

The friends of Miss Borden still assert that for over a week she was kept powerless under a continual pumping process, and when the officials found they could get no more out of her they put her under a rrest.

While many think that, under the peculiar circumstances surrounding Miss borden's connection with the tragedy, the police were warranted in placing her in confinement, they maintain that there was a right and a wrong way to do it, and that the wrong way was followed.

ONE THEORY EXPLODED.

New York, Aug. 16 .- A morning paper says: 'The police, detectives, amateur detectives and various official sleuth hounds of justice are trying to discover a clew to the murderer of the Borden couple at Fall River by making it appear that the murdered River by making it appear that the murdered man was on board the vessel Jefferson Borden in 1875, when a mutiny occurred, and afterward rendered testimony which sent the mutineers to prison, and that the released convicts killed him for revenge. This could not be so, and the clew might as well be dropped at once. Andrew J. Borden was not on board when the mutiny occurred, could know nothing about it and did not give any testimony at the trial of the mutineers.

The paper publishes a story of the tragedy, in which every person on the vessel is accounted for.

Reinforcements Hurried to the Front-Seventy-five Non-Union Men Sent Into the Yards Under Strong Guard-Chicago Switchmen Affected and Ready to Strike at the Word-The Railroad Yards Under Martial Law.

BUFFALO, N. Y. Aug. 16.-There were no sensational developments in the switchmen's strike during the night and the situation has on guard in the field and the police reinforced by 200 specials, the feeling is much more reassuring yesterday. The calling out of the militia by the sheriff is generally commended especially as his deputies proved practically worthless and many of them deserted at the first show of opposition. The police claim to be able to handle the strike inside the city limits, but in the town of Cheektowaga, where the militia was sent, the situation is

During the progress of the milit ary preparations Gen. Doyle said: "You can say the National Guard is never ordered out at midnight to put down a riot with blank cartridges. Every man that leaves this arsenal to-night will carry eight rounds of ball cartridges and will be prepared to shoot. If there is any necessity for shooting, you may depend upon it there will be hot work. This regiment has a fine record at rifle practice, and was never in better condition for duty than to-night. I'm going through with the First Battailon, and I'm going clear through the lines if the strikers have set up any lines. We are not going out for fun.'

MILITIA ARRIVE.

Col. Welch arrived at Williams street station outside the city line about 1 o'clock. His special object, apart from keeping the peace in a general way, was to protect the trestle near by, about which there was considerable uneasiness. It was loaded with coal, and from remarks dropped durin sthe night, it was believed that an attempt would be made to set fire to it.

A committee from the Switchmen's Association called upon them and asked that they go home. It was reported at the meeting of the association last evening that the men had agreed to go home provided the union would agreed to go home provided the union would pay their expenses. This was taken up at the meeting and discussed. At the conclu-sion of the session one of the strikers said: "The men are going home." As none of their could be found at the hotelit is sup-posed that the union has sent them out of town.

Shortly after dark last night fire broke out in an empty box car opposite the Lackawanna brick hotel. It was believed to have been of incendiary origin. The batallion thief Pelsing and his men put out the fire, contining it to the car in which it started. After the flames were quenched an engine came alongside and put up the hose, to the great amusement of some of the strikers or sympathizers who had gathered in the vicinity. After this incident there was quiet until the arrival of the military. A few trains passed through, but no attempt was made to molest them, though the strikers were gattered over the yards and were seen here and there, and evidently watching events and doing picket work. Every now or again torpedoes were exploded, indicating that the strikers had a code of signals for the purpose of conveying information to each other.

Attorney Daniel H. McMillan and several officials of the New York Central called on Sheriff Beck about 11 o'clock this morning and asked for protection for the road. Although their men had not struck the company had received intimation that they might do so and trouble was feared.

There were no indications of a strike on the Central. It is known, however, that a committee of switchmen were sent to Snpt. Burrows of the Central yesterday for a conference. Mr. Burrows was out along the road and the statement of the men was telegraphed to him. A reply was received, but it gave the men no satisfaction. Shortly after dark last night fire broke out

The sun was extremely hot along the tracks and those on actual guard duty found it very fatiguing. The strikers are concentrated at Williams street and the regiments are being brought together near that point to move on them. A detachment has just been sent for to go to the Tift farm and have gone on a double guick? An engine and two cars are waiting in the Erie Station at Michigan street to take a car load of switchmen to the yards to go to work. It is expected that there will be serious trouble when they arrive in the yards. Most of the men are iteading men brought here yesterday. The yards are under martial law. Very few trains are moving and neither the Erie or Lehigh Road appears to have men enough to keep the tracks clear of freight cars. The Seventy-fourth Regiment is at the William street yards and the Sixty-fifth has gone half a mile further down the tracks. The brigade headquarters have been established on William street and from here Gen. Boyle directs the movements of the troops. Two car loads of out-of-town workmen arrived over the Lehigh tracks at noon and have been switched off somewhere between the yards and the city. The men who were expected from the Erie Station have also been switched off and are awaiting orders. Injured by Toppedoes.

INJURED BY TORPEDORS.

Three of the solders of the Sixty-fifth regiment were slightly injured this morning by the explosion of torpedoes placed on the tracks by the strikers. There were in the neighborhood of 200 torpedoes placed along the track. The soldiers were guarding the freight which was being moved. It exploded the torpedoes and the splinters struck Sergt. Elers and two men in the legs. Dr. Creg picked the pieces out and the men are on auty again. It is reported that Reading special agents are recruiting men for Buffalo throughout the entire length of the road. Over 250 are said to have already been secured.

tions. If they appear to be wavering in their doyalty to the road a change will at once result.

Grand Master Sweeney said that the situation was now in the hands of the Grievance Committee, but stated positively that no other roads would be ordered out right away. He said a conference would be held during the day with the officials of the Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburg. He was positively that that road might go out if the demand of the men were not acceded to. Mr. Sweeney emphasized the statement that it was unfair to charge the acts of lawlessness to the switchmen. He said the switchmen were willing to refer their grievances to three disinterested men. A committee of the union waited on the officers of the Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburg Railroad at noon and asked for the Chicago scale. After a short talk in which it was understood that the men were not to handle freight of any other line, the company agreed to pay the scale. A committee has been appointed to meet the Central officers this afternoon and ask for the increased scale. In view of the fact that the Central has asked for protection from the sheriff, it is thought they will refuse to comply with the committee's request. It is thought the strike of the switchmen on the Central and West Shore will follow at once.

Likely To Spread.

LIKELY TO SPREAD.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Aug. 16 .- A special from Lyons says: "A great amount of perishable ad time freight is arriving here from Buffal and being transferred to the Fallbrook, run down to Corning and thence over the Erie to destination. One train of thirty cars of meat went through last night. There appears to be quite a number of switchmen who belong to the union here, but not enough to make much of a break. Owing to action of the Fallbrook & Central Hudson in accepting freight from the Lehigh and Erie, it is thought that a general strike may be ordered on these lines especially at this point, which is very important as regards transfers. Officials at Lyons think it probable that switchmen will be ordered out all along the Central and West shore in sympathy with Lehigh and Erie strikers. and being transferred to the Fallbrook the Central and West shore in sympathy with Lehigh and Erie strikers.

There is no change in the situation on the railroads at Binghampton. The switchmen say they have no grievances and that there will be no strike there. The Erie yard there presents a deserted appearance, the tie-up at Buffalo having abeut paralyzed the freight traffic. A special from susquehanna, Pa., says the Susquehanna switchmen have no local grievance, as their pay was raised some months ago.

CHICAGO, Ill., Aug. 16 .- It was rumored late last night that all the switchmen on the Eric line in Chicago, which is the old Chicago & Atlantic, had been ordered on a strike. A reporter who called at the Dearborn street depot was told that these switchmen only worked as far into Chicago as Fifty first street. On calling there the switch-only worked as far into Chicago as Fifty-first street. On calling there the switchmen said:

"The Erle road proper extends westward only to Marion, C. This is an auxiliary to the system. We are waiting to hear the word from Grand Master Sweeny. He is now in Buffalo. As soons he speaks we quit and so do all the switchnen on the lines rounding into Chicago. The trike may not reach Chicago for a week yet, but unless the demands of the strikers in the East are granted all the great railway lines will be tied up within ten days."

The statement of Grand Master Wilkinson of the Order of Triinmen, that the trainmen would assist the switchmen if the strike was authorized, is retarded as significant and especially because of the fact that the trainmen and switchnen have been mortal enemies ever since the fight on the Northwestern road. Wilkinson sto leave this morning for Buffalo. The head conductor of the Order of Railway Conductors was closeted for three hours with Mr. Wilkinson last night at the Sherman House. The head conductor of the Order of Railway Conductors was closeted for three hours with Mr. Wilkinson last night at the Sherman House. The head conductor refused to discuss the situation, nor could Wilkinson give any idea of the nature of the conference. Wharver its nature it is evident that the confuctors are in negotiation with the trainmen who say that they will support the swithmen if the strike is authorized.

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Aug. 16 .- This forenoon there did not seem to be any immediate pros-pect of the switchmen's strike reachpect of the switchmen's strike reaching this place. The switchmen employed in the yards of the Pennsylvania, Central, Lehigh Valley, and Delaware, Lackawanna & Western roads were at work as usual. The passenger trains, it was stated, were not being serbusly interfered with, but freight trains were either stalled at various points or making little headway. The railroad companies are refusing to accept anything in the line of perishable freight.

Concerted Efforts to Drive All the Con victs Out of the Mines-Coal Creek in Imminent Danger-Gov. Buchanan Or ders a Regiment of Militia to Proceed to the Scene of the Disturbance-The Wires Were Cut, but Communication Has Been Restored.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Aug. 16 .- A telegram from Briceville at 9 o'clock this morning states that an armed body of miners from the Coal Creek region attacked the prison stockades, near Oliver Springs, and were repulsed by the quards two of whom were wounded. The dispatch adds that a secon attack was expected to follow. The wires Springs, and it has been impossible to learn any details of the uprising.

News came to this city early this morning that during last night an armed mob had been formed at Coal Creek, whose destination was Oliver Springs. There are about 150 convicts there with only a handful of guards to protect them, all the soldiers having been removed some time ago. The miners at Coal Creek did but little work yesterday, only ten cars of coal coming in, when the usual number is nearly one hun dred. Maj. Chandler, commanding the mili tia, received orders to hold his men under arms and sixty-five are ready to move at a moment's notice.

At noon a dispatch was received from Harriman Junction, fifteen miles from the Springs, that the guards at the stockade were still holding out, although greatly out numbered. The miners have the camp sur rounded and will probably destroy the place with dynamite if the convicts are not given Wire communication between Harriman and Oliver Springs has been restored. The little city of Oliver Springs is four miles from the mining camp, from where all news come by telephone, which is just now a very un satisfactory means of communication. TO COAL CREEK NEXT.

It is very evident that the attacks on the stockades, beginning at Tracy City Saturday morning, extending to Inman yesterday and then to Oliver Springs to-day, is the result of a carefully arganged plan on the part of the miners' organization of East Tennessee to ride the State of convict labor in the mines. And it is also apparent that they have counted upon the inactivity of the county officers to assist them in the consummation

That the rebuilt stockades at Coal Creek and Briceville will be attacked next is almost a certainty. A small detachment of militia guards the latter places, but if the miners are determined to push the war this fact will not deter them long in carrying out their object. While the militia are few in numbers, they are well armed and have a howitzer and gatling gun. Their officers are brave men, and when the test comes there will not be a repetition of the disgraceful surrender which marked the action of the State soldiery last June, when the stockades were destroyed without a blow having been struck in their without a blow having been struck in their defense.

Oliver Springs lies about thirty miles west of Knoxville, in a spur of the Cumberland range known as Waldern's Ridge. On Nov. 2 of last year, following closely the burning of the prison stockades at Coal Creek and the release of convict miners there and at Brice-ville, the prison pens in which the striped laborers at the Springs were housed were burned to the ground and the prisoners turned loose among the mountains. The mines at Oliver Springs are operated by the Cumberland Mining & Manufacturing Co. In the former attack there were about 200 mounted men in the party.

There were fifteen guards, well armed and behind good fortifications. The Cumberland company's stockade, unlike the two stockades captured on the other side of the range, was on high ground overlooking all the other mountains except that against which it was built. An attack had been anticipated, but when the demand came to surrender the stockade was given up without a shot being fired. The convicts were furnished with citizens' clothing, which they hurriedly exchanged for their stripes and fled.

At 2 p. m. a message was received from the superintendent of the mines at Oliver Springs

STATE TROOFS CALLED OUT.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Aug. 16.—The riot signal from the big bell on the Court-house was sounded at noon to-day. The miners have attacked the third stockade in three days. This time it is Oliver Springs. The assailants marched to the stockade and ordered the convicts turned over to them. They were refused and a sharp-encounter followed. The guards showed pluck and easily repulsed the miners, who fell back sullenly to prepare for a second attack.

The rioters declare that armed resistance

FRENCH LABOR TROUBLES. Paris, Aug. 16 .- Four thousand of the cabirivers of this city went on strike to-day. No lisorders have been reported. A dispatch from Carmaux, in the department of Marn, in Southwestern France, says that a body of the coal miners employed there became indignant at the mine officials because of the dismissal of one of their number who was a unionist. To avenge themselves for the man's dismissal they made an attack upon the house of the manager of the mine and wrecked the furniture in it. They also compelled the manager to write a letter resigning his position. The situation was very threatening, and it was thought the trouble would spread and further outrages be perpetrated. The mine officials have appealed to the authorities for protection and asked that troops and gendarmes be dispatched to Carmaux to quell the disturbance. ment of Marn, in Southwestern France, says

POPE LEO XIIL INTERVIEWED.

The Church's Mission One of Mercy and

Not of Persecution. YORK, Aug. 16 .- An interview with Pope Leo XIII, by the well-known Parisian lady journalist, "Severine," is published this morning by the Figaro. The object of some expression of opinion with regard to tion has recently been brought; or, to adopt the diplomatic language of the Figaro's con spondent, to find out not what Leo XIII. disapproved of, but what he did not approve of. After a kind welcome from his Holiness, Mme. Severine spoke of Jesus Christ pardoning his executioners, and asked if it were not a Christian's duty to follow his example. The Pope replied that Christ had bled for "every man, with no exception," but chiefly for those not believing in him, they having the greater need. He had left the church the mission of bringing them all back to truth, not by persecution, but by persuasion. All violence against persons was contrary to the spondent, to find out not what Leo XIII violence against persons was contrary to the will of God and contrary to God's teachings. The words "war" and "religion" did not go together.

''There remains, Holy Father, the war of races,' said the interviewer. "There remains, non ranger to races," said the interviewer.

"What races? All are the issue of Adam, whom God created. What does it matter it individuals have a different color and a dissimilar aspect according to their environments, since their souls are all the same? If we sent out our missionaries to the infidels, to the heretics and to the savages it is because all human beings are—mark it well—cause all human beings are—mark it well cause all human beings are—mark it well—the creatures of God. There are those happy enough to have faith, and there are those to whom it is our duty to give it—that is all. They are equal before the Lord, since their very existence is the work of his will."

The Pope then referred to the devotion of the Catholic priests towards the Israelites when the Ghetto existed at Rome, and added: "When the populace wished to massacre the Jews they (the Jews) put themselves under the protection of the Pope and he spread his protecting influence over them. If the church is an indulgent mother, with arms ever open for those who come to her or who return to her again, it does not follow that those of the impious who deny her should be her preferred ones. She has no anger against them; they are her grief, her sore; but she keeps her predilection for the faithful who console her and who are her lervent and plous sons. Thus if the church has a mission to defend the weak, she has also a mission to defend the read against all attempt at oppression, and now after so many onslaughts, the reign of money has come. They wish to conquer the church and rule the people with money. But neither the church nor the people will allow them."

"The Pope said: "I am for the lesser ones, the humble, the dispossessed, those whom our Lord loved."

Leo XIII. would say no more on the Semitic question. Before this interesting interview came to a close the Pope expressed in unmistakable language his wish to avoid politics. "My kingdom is not of this world," his Master had said.
One last question: "Did His Holinesss approve of the conduct of Abbe Jacot, the Alsatian-Lorrainer, who preached to the French of that State forgetfulness of their mother country, telling them that in this he was interpreting the Pope's commandments?"

"I deplore it," said Leo XIII. "I love France. It is toward her that my eyes always turn whenever my voice is heard in these chambers, where I have wandered for nifteen years without ever going out."

News From the Eureau of Engraving and

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 16 .- It is now pro posed to issue a bank note souvenir in honor of the quadro-centennial of the discovery of America. Capt. Meredith, Chief of the Bu-America. Capt. Meredith, Chief of the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, has had such a proposition under consideration for some time and he has made preparations to lay the matter before Secretary Foster on his return to Washington in such a way that if the design is authorized, the engravers can get to work on it immediately. The idea is to choose one of the smaller denominations for the souvenir, probably the one dollar note.

The Bureau of Engraving and Printing is preparing actively for the display which it will make at the World's Fair. There will be no active mechanical exhibition. A complete collection of portraits of the Secretaries of the Treasury, from the Beginning of the Government, the portraits of all the Presidents, the portraits of deceased members of Congress which have been engraved from time to time, pictures of public buildings and specimens of all the bank notes, Treasury notes, bonds and revenue stamps issued from the Bureau displayed in frames will constitute the exhibit of the bureau.

The battle would have certainly resulted in a large number of lives being lost but for the prompt action of the provost marshal, Maj. Unionists warked along maintaining ellence. Cries of "Lynch the scabs," "Kill the black sheep," "Take them to the river," were heard. A fundred yards up the street a dozen strikers ran to the front, picked up stones and hastened toward the four defenseless men. A big feliow at the head of the latter realized that things were growing serious, and said:
"You cowards can go to —. We are not going to run. Now, do your worst."
This play of nerve caused the mob to fall back a short distance, whereupon the four employes of the Carnegie company started toward the mill again. By this time about one hundred women had joined the ranks of the strikers, urging the male portion of the crowd to make short work of the "scabs."
Maj. Crawford, learning of the situation, soon hot thirty men with bayonets fixed going towards the crowd, which was now armed with stones and clubs and closing up on the non-unionists. The militia drew up in company front across the street with guns at half cock. Some one shouted:
"Don'tlet a little handful of pale-faced boys stop us. Let's teach those scabs a lesson."
The soldiers stood their ground with those boys stop us. Let's teach those scabs a lesson.'

The soldiers stood their ground with fingers on the hammers of their guns. Maj. Crawford had a deputy sheriff order the crowd to disperse, but the order was disregarded. Then the signal was given and a company from the Sixteenth Regiment came down the hill on double quick and was drawn up across the street. Ex-Sheriff Gray with an additional force of deputies then arrived. Turning to Mr. Gray. Maj. Crawford, after striking a striker across the back with his sword, asked:

"Do you want us to disperse this crowd?"

"Ido, "was the reply.

Maj. Crawford turned to his men and was about to give the command to charge when Policeman Gessner with a squad of officers came up and ordered the street clear. The crowd with sullen faces and profane remarks began to fall back. For half an hour the uneasy feeling prevailed. Finally the policemen and deputy sheriffs succeeded in restoring order and the militia returned to campand the mon-union workmen were escorted to the mill.

SYMPATHY FOR THE STRIKERS. TRENTON, N. J., Aug. 16.—The State Federation of Trades has passed the following resolutions

We cannot too severely condemn and denounce the contemptuous treatment of and attack upon organized labor by the managers of the Carnegle mills at Homestead, Pa. Their employes were the joint creators of their millions and deserve better treatment than arrogant refusal to arbitrate the wage and other difficulties arising.

The active preparation for a lockout, the barricading of the works and the unnecessary employment of The active preparation for a lockout, the barricading of the works and the unnecessary employment of Pinkertons were both arbitrary, shameful and criminal—a line of conduct responsible for the deplorable scenos that resulted. The whole course of the steel barons has been a determined effort to crush organized labor. We extend our earnest sympathy to the locked out workmen in their struggle to maintain their independence and their loyalty to the amalgamated association.

Resolved, That the appeal just issued in behalf of the locked out workers of Homestead, Fa., by the representatives of the American Federation of Labor and the Amalgamated Association of fron and Steel Workers, meets the approval of this congress and interficients. That this congress urges the workmen of New Jeriesy to avoid all strikes so long as the struggle lasts at Homestead and to give immediate and pecuniary aid.

The New Cabinet to Be Announced To-Night-Cholers Said to Be Decreasing in Russia-No Union Jack in a Canadisn Parade-General Foreign Cablegrams-Briefs.

LONDON, Aug. 16 .- Contrary to the popular impression, but not to the impression of those who are close to Her Majesty, Mr. Gladstone had a warm reception at Osborne. Although Queen Victoria does not like Mr. Gladstone's politics, she has the respect of a veteran for a veteran, and is known to be grateful to Mr. he has often intervened to protect the royal family from radical assaults in Parliament. Her Majesty talked with Mr. Gladstone for half an hour in private. Of their conversation, of course, nothing has been revealed. All that has reached the public from the royal precincts s that Lord Salisbury himself was never treated more cordially. This attitude of the Queen toward the Liberal leader is commented on cynically by Keir Hardy and others of his stamp, who m to think that Mr. Gladstone should the Queen a lady. The conversation between Mr. Gladstone and the Queen took place in the royal drawing room, with no one present

Mr. Gladstone left Osborne on his return at 10 o'clock this morning. At Cowes a great throng of spectators were assembled and they cheered the new Premier over and over again, it being noticed that the henchmen of the royal household were just as demonstrative as the rest of the people. Yesterday they were a little reserved, but the news of Mr. Gladstone's favorable reception has got abroad and the dependents of royalty took their cue from the queen.

Twenty minutes after leaving Osborne House Mr. Gladstone was on board the Alberta, the lines were off and she was steaming across the solent. A choppy sea was running and the yacht rolled and pitched quite heav-ily, making the passage one of discomfort. Mr. Gladstone was conveyed to Southamp-

The enthusiasm manifested yesterday at Waterloo Station and at various points along the route of Mr. Gladstone's journey were repeated upon his return to-day. Everywhere, particularly at southampton and the waterloo station, he was surrounded by a good-natured crowd, who heartly cheered and greeted him with cries of, "Bravo, William." "Drop it into them, old man."

At Southampton it seemed as if the whole city had poured out to meet Mr. Gladstone and as the royal yacht approached carrying him to the landing place the cheers of the people were audible far out on the waves. Mr. Gladstone, his face beaming with satisfactions. faction, bowed repeatedly to the people, who rent the air with their shouts and hurrahs. rent the air with their shouts and hurrahs. It was evident to everybody that his interview with the Queen had been satisfactory. On his way back to London Mr. Gladstone received another great ovation at Easingstoke. The crowd was different at Southampton. They were mostly country people assembled from far and near on the news that Mr. Gladstone had passed the day before and was on his way back to day. It was a peculiar gathering, including substantial farmers in broadcloth, ordinary working men and yoke's in cloth, ordinary working men and yoke's in their yellow frocks. There was a notable absence of 'squires, the most conservative element, and still bitterly anta conistic as a rule to the Liberal leader. The agricultural laborers cheered heartily and struggled to get a glimpse of the man who had given them the right to vote and to whom they look for some snare in the acres they and their ances-tors have cultivated. Mr. Gladstone gracious ly recognized the popular enthusiasm and were out in force to greet the new Prime Min-ister and he was cordially cheered as he made his way from the train to his carriage. Mr. Glastone will make known to-night the names of his new ministry. The news of the pleasant interview between Her Majesty and a r. Gladstone has caused much satisfac-tion in this city and s ared financiers are gettion in this city and s' ared manciers are get-ting over their demoralization. The general impression is that Mr. Gladstone has satisfied Her Majesty that the interests of the empire will be vigliantly conserved and protected, and there will be no weakening in the foreign relations of Great Britain, so far as the de-fanse and the integrity of the empire is con-cerned. It is known that Queen Victoria's great wish and ambition is to hand down the pire intact to her successor, and that she empire intact to her successor, and that she is thoroughly copposed to any policy that would mean the alienation of any part of it. Therefore, the public belief is that Mr. Gladstone has entirely reassured Her Majesty appearance to the Overeit to the Queen is satisfied they ought to be satis-

The Young Ruffian Killed His Father and a Fellow Prisoner-Double Tragedy on the Brooklyn Bridge-Keeping Up a Feud-Unauthorized Postmaster Arrested-Crime News.

WINCHESTER, Ky., Aug. 16. - Logan Murphy, the 17-year-old desperado, was taken from jail early this morning by a mob. At last ac counts the party was heading for Mount Sterling, and it is safe to say that the youthful murderer has been strung up by this time. He begged piteously for his life, while being dragged from his cell.

Murphy killed his father in cold blood, was arrested, tried and sentenced to be hanged, but was given a new trial. While waiting for this he was confined in the Mount Sterling jail. During his incarceration he slashed a fellow prisoner with a knife made from an iron hoop. Last week he quarrelled with another prisoner named Archie Steel and stabbed him to death with a knife. The feel-ing against the boy murderer was so strong that it was decided to bring him here for

A WOMAN IN THE CASE. Boston, Aug. 16.-The disappearance of James E. Gilman involves greater frauds than was at first suppesed. The estate of Wm. F. Schoerrnhorn, the geologist and mineralogist who is working in the interest of Idaho's exhibit at the World's Fair, writes under dateof Aug. 8 that he had discovered an immense glacial field in central Idaho, beneath which lie series of glacial lakes. The field probably covers an area nearly as great, though not as thick, as the great glacial field of the Alps. He has examined sixteen terminal mortans, eleven of which were receding, four were stationary and one was advancing. None of them extended more than 2,000 feet below the snow lines. Present Condition and Prospects in Michigan and Iowa.

CROP REPORTS.

DETROIT, Mich., Aug. 16 .- This weeh's report of the Michigan Weather Crop Bureau indicates that the weather has been good for growing crops and general farm work, notwithsta nding the drouth that has pre vailed in some of the central and southern valled in some of the central and southern counties. This has injured crops to some extent, corn and potatoes especially. Rain is still needed in this section. In the central and northern portions of the State corn, root and grass crops have been benefitted by recent rains. Wheat and oats are about all cut and threshing is almost over. The oat crop is a large one. In Sanita County late oats and barley are shrunk badly, while in several localities throughout the State midge is working destruction to cloverseed.

Baldwin Commandery Returns.

Baldwin Commandery, No. 50, Knights
Templar, arrived in the city this morning from Denver, where they covered them, selves with glory in the Missouri sall below the average. The rainfall has been somewhat local in its character and yet enough has fallen for all growing crops; except in becatur and Wayne Counties, where pasturage and corn are needing rain. Some damage to small grain is reported from the northwest corner of the state by hall and wind. Harvesting is nearly complete in the northern part of the State and threshing begun. Oats are of a very light weight and are yielding from twelve to thirty bushels per acre. Wheat and barley are making a better showing, although lardly up to the average. The ground is in splendid condition for fall plowing and it seems to be the general opinion of the farmers that this will be taken advantage of and a large acreage of fail grain sown.

Nebraska, Iowa, Illinois, Wisconsin and Michigan, who contributed steadily to the Republican majorities in those States for years, but who are opposed to the plutocratic Repulicanism of to-day. They have showed this by their voting on State issues and on the Congressional issues of 1890.

The partisan voting habit is strongest in presidential years, but it may be broken. The spirit of revolt which caused a landslide in '90 is more vigorous than ever. national issues involved then are up for more effectual settlement now. The opposition to monopoly, high tariff, dominance of the money power and force billism represented by Democracy harmonizes with the sentiment of the masses of Western people irrespective of partisan affilia-

All this must be done by legitimate cam paigning, but it requires money. To pro vide the means for the labor of organiza tion and education the Western campaign fund has been started. It appeals to every Western Democrat for liberal support.

THE BUFFALO STRIKE.

The switchmen's strike at East Buffalo has resulted in violence of the worst kind. Trains have been derailed, property destroyed and transportation of freight and passengers interrupted. The demand for an advance in wages, or equalization as it is the result of conditions with which the was called, is refused on the ground that tariff has nothing to do. The only effect of the Eastern railway systems cannot afford to pay wages as high as those west of Buffalo, where rates are higher and living more costly. Whether or not the demand be just, there cannot be two opinions concerning the conduct of the men who committed these acts of violence. They have not the provocation which won sympathy for the Homestead workmen in their struggle against the powerful beneficiaries of gov-

In this case President McLeod sums up the situation very tersely. "There are thousands of competent men," says he, "ready to go to work for us in Buffalo who are deterred only by threats of violence." In such circumstances he is right in adding: "We are certain to win." A surplus of commodities depresses prices, down and down until it is absolutely neces and when two men want one man's job wages are bound to fall.

This fact is clearly understood by the workingmen themselves, who endeavor to limit the available labor supply through trade unions. They know that there are thousands of men out of employment and leap up by tens of atilions every year. Iowa to prevail a strike would be ineffectual. Hence non-union men are subjected to immoral sussion in the shape of threats and of 25,791. In other words, the number of penopen violence.

The sooner labor organizations stop kicking against the pricks the sooner the labor problem will be solved, if it is susceptible of solution. There are influences stronger than the strongest purpose of man. Neither strikes nor legislative enactments can keep up the price of labor when there is an oversupply, nor can Illinois and Indiana is very large, and it is lockouts keep it down when there is an undersupply. Unions which seek to compass their ends by the means adopted by the Buffalo strikers begin at the wrong dictation of New York politicians lies in makes the settlement of the labor problem Democratic success in the Northwest. The idea of having every man in the party aiding in its success at critical points is a splendid one. It is worthy with his fellows in this noble work.

They are now in open opposition to law and order and must bear the consequences. They are without the excuse of great provocation which the Homestead men had when they fought the Pinkertons. The law must be enforced and the rights of property and free labor protected at any cost.

CANADA is inclined to explain, apologize and reform in the matter of grain rebates on the St. Lawrence canals and the United States should meet her half way. Commercial reprisal is not in the spirit of the highest modern civilization. It is a twoedged sword and there is always danger that behind the public act is a greedy private interest. The mission of this country is one of peace and freedom.

Don't Prove Too Much.

From the New York Times. There is one argument in defense of the ex-remely high tariff of 1890 that we should advise our kepublican friends not to use too often or make too conspicuous. It is that in highly taxed products the price has actually failen after the duties have been raised. This is proving altogether too much. It is in such a trade as that there was no possible excuse for the increased duties. If the manufacturer has been induced to lower his prices competition stimulated by the new duties, he could have been induced to do the same thing by competition from abroad. In reality, where the prices have been reduced, the higher duties has been to increase the cost of goods actually imported. In other words, a small class of American buyers have been taxed for nobody's benefit whatever The instances are very few, but where they exist they prove the arbitrary and oppressive operation of a tax law passed at the dictation

Daniel O'Connell on Protection.

From the Rochester Herald. Sept. 28, 1843, in a speech against the high tariff corn laws. Daniel O'Connell said: "But what is the meaning of protection? It means an additional expense for every loaf; that is the Irish of it. If he had not the protection, the loaf would sell for a shilling; but he has protection, and it will sell for one and-sixpence. Protection is the English fo sixpence; and what is more, it is the English end of the problem. Every act of violence for an extorted sixpence. The meaning of protection, therefore, is roobery—robbery of the poor by the rich."

"To the Republican organ which designates the Western Democratic campaign fund as a corruption fund have nothing to say. To the le who have been and will be subjected to the necessity of seeing such idiocy in print we have this to say: The Western Democratic campaign fund is not a Wanamaker fund. It does not represent the crats to perpetuate plutocratic legislation. It is not an exaction wrung from office-holders by office-holders in violation of the civil service law. It does not appeal to the instincts of greed to swell the resources of venality. It will not place in the hands of Quays and Dudleys the means of thwartthe will of the people. It is in every respect and particular, in origin and purpose, in method and nature, distinctly and diametrically the opposite of all that evil in American politics. It is a voluntary contribution by the people to carry out the will of the people. It is an expression of respect for the letter and spirit of civil service reform which forbid campaign assessments upon office-holders. It is a practical application of that sense of justice which favors uniform legislation for all men and all interests. It is the unselfish offering of those whose chief object is the welfare of their fellow citizens. whatever State they may reside it is gathered in the broad light of day to be disbursed before the eyes of the public in legitimate ways for an honest purpose. It is a novelty in politics which will elevate, not degrade. It meets a new situation with new ideas. It adds a potent factor to the resources upon which the people must rely for protection against the ever reasing influence of ailled monopoly and office holding. Its full success will mean the triumph of Democratic principles in November. It is within the power of every Demo crat to contribute to that success and to help to make it certain. Wm. Zimmerman was tried before Judge Claiborne to-day on the charge of assaulting John F. He reported at Schuler's Hall that a number of union men Schuler's Hall that a number of union men were working in one of the mills and predicted that the strike would lose. At this some of the strikers called him a traitor, whereupon Wright denied the charge and claimed that he was conscientions in his position and would stick to it. According to one of the witnesses this morning Wright closed his speech in this way: "As Dr. hiartin Luther said 400 years ago I say now, "Here I stand, I cannot do otherwise. God help me. Amen." The witness was an old German and delivered the speech in a manner that caused a big laugh in the court-room.

Among other things the Re publican candidate says that Francis said it was time to retire the Colonels and old fogies o the rear and give somebody else chance. Warner is liberal with quotaions, and says he quite agrees what Francis said. He wants a change and he argues that it ought to be made by wiping he emocratic rule out at Jefferson City and giving the Republican machine control. warner has said so much about Fran-cis since he got on the stump that the Democratic leaders are getting worked up, and are charging that the eader of the Republican ticket is charging statements to the present Governor that he never made in any campaign. Friends of Gov. Maj. Warner spoke of the itemized statement of the expenses, one of which was for an encyclopedia. He waxed funny on this subject and called attention to some of Cleveland's speeches and their alleged connection with the knowledge contained in such useful works. Turning to sundries again he got humorous and spoke of 'weet' and 'dry' sundries purchased for the Governor's mansion out of State funds duly appropriated of course by a Democratic Legislature. The funds.

When Gov. Francis' attention was called to this he said it was claimed that Warner had partaken of some of the same "wet" sundres during his stay in Jefferson City after his nomination. The Governor went further, it appears, and expressed himself in about this style: "I don't know whether Maj. Warner would appease his appetite for 'wet sundries' at the expense of the State or not, but I can truthfully say that the State of Missouri never paid for any of the refreshments brought in the Executive vansion for the entertainment of visitors during my administration."

ministration."

Those who attended the State Republican Convention which met in Jefferson City will remember that the Governor did invite Maj. Warner to the Mansion, and those who went with him say he pronounced the Governor's Kentucky bourbon some of the best he had ever tasted. Friends of Gov. Francis say that Maj. Warner had better go slow on the 'wet sundries' dodge or he will hear something drop.

Big Reception for Stevenson and Stone Prosecuting Attorney George F. Langan and County Clerk T. F. Mitchum of Pettis County, Mo., reached the city this morning and spent several hours at the state Demo cratic headquarters at the Laclede. Both reside in Sedalia, and like all Sedalians are interested in booming that city. On the 30th inst., the Democratic campaign for Central bissouri will be formally opened there and inst., the Democratic campaign for Central hissouri will be formally opened there and extensive preparations are under way to make it the greatest demonstration ever seen in that city. The only speech Gen. Adlal E. Stevenson, the Democratic nominees for Vice-President, will make in Missouri, will be at the Sedalia meeting, and the Democratic leaders up there expect that he will draw fully 40,000 people there, aside from 10,000 from Pettis County. Speaking to al. Salmon this morning Mr. Longan said: "We are arranging things on a grand scale, and expect fully 50,000 people. This will be three times the number Warner had at his opening. The people of Sedalia, irrespective of politics, have agreed to light up the illuminations that have been put up all over the city for the fair which is now in progress. We have splenoid bands and thousands of strong-lunged Democrats to add their share to the enthusiasm for Cleveland, Stevenson, tariff reform and Col. Stone. The railroa is running in our way have all offered low rates and the crowds will pour in on us in such numbers as have never been seen in any city in Missourioutside of St. Louis and Kansas City."

According to Mr. Longan's estimate there will be fully twenty-five brass bands and a couple of hundred marching clubs. The speakers advertised in the bills are senator vest, Col. Stone. Col. Dick Dalton and Congressman John T. Heard. All the candidates for State Offices on the Democratic ticket will be there in addition to the officers and members of the State Committee.

Will Make His Canvass in Jail. Col. R. T. Railey of Harrisonville, Case County, was at the Laclede Hotel this morning, and in conversation with Maj. Salmon said the party up in his part of the State was never in a better state of organization, and that Cass would stand up for Missouri by giving Stone the largest majority ever polled by the Democrats of that section, lie also had something to say about the Cass Counting to say about the Cass Counting to gudges committed to jail by the Federal Court for refusing to make a levy to pay the celebrated bonds issued by the county judges in 1863.

Being a Republican myself, I will not say that they have given up New York to the Republicans but I will say that that Western issue will curmore of a figure in national politics than even some Republicans think it will. If the Republicans endeavor to also make a fight to the finish in the West by a similar move, the Democrats will turn their attention to New York during the confusion and sweep that state at the last moment. My opinion is, however, that while Hill and Tammany will make a big showing for Cleveland before the election, at the election he will be scratched for the sole purpose of convincing the Cleveland apporters that they could not take Cleveland and carry New York, as Tammany dictators predicted at the Chicago Convention.

W. Speed Stephens of Boonville, Mo., Cash ler of the Central National Bank, passed through St. Louis last night en route to Old Point Comfort. While Mr. Stephens' name has never been mentioned as a prominent politician, nevertheless he is one of the shrewdest politicians in Central Missouri, and strange to say very few know it. He has mapped out the plan of campaign for several State officers, was instrumental in the election of two Congressmen and managed Lon Stephens' campaign that resulted in his nomination for State Treasurer. He never discusses politics on the street, neyer wrote a political letter and never publicly supported or fought a candidate for any office. He is a brainy man and is consulted daily by prominent political leaders for advice in regard to the best plans to pursue to accomplish certain purposes.

He will call at the Republican headquarters this evening and encourage the workers by informing them that the Democratic raily to be held at Sedalla on the 30th, will not affect the converts made at the Republican ratification held in that city last month. Capt. Widdecombe is a personal friend of Maj. Warner and when he returns from the East he will do some wire-working in his interest in Central Missouri.

The complaint filed by these gentlemen states that the g. anitoid work on Washington avenue, from Tweifth to Fifteenth streets, that on the north side of Market, between Thirteenth and Fourteenth streets and on the northwest corner of Market and Thirteenth streets was imperfectly done.

The appearance of John B. O'Meara's name among the list of delinquent contractors gave uneasiness to his political friends, as they did not wish to see him antagonizing the labor element.

O'meara was seen this morning and questioned about the matter. "My name appeared on the list through an oversight of the committee," he said, and drawing from his pocket copies of the city ordinances creating his contracts, he explained where he was not amenable to the committee's charge." A New Law Making Changes in Internal Revenue Methods.

GOVERNMENT GAUGERS NO LONGER STATIONED IN RECTIFYING HOUSES.

Collector Wenneker Relieves Five Gaugers From Duty in His Department-Distilleries Alone Subject to Supervision-The New Law and How It Is Expected to Work,

Yesterday United States Internal Revenue Wenneker, acting under instructions from Washington, laid off five Government liquor gaugers from active service in his department of the internal revenue system. This action was taken in accordance with a new liquor law that went into effect yesterday, and the gaugers who lost their positions temporarily thereby are Alfred J. Wageman, Herman C. Stodrick, John H. Pohlman, J. C.

rch reporter to-day obtained an intelligent cussion of this change in the Internal Rev-em.

WHAT ITS EFFECT WILL BE.

WHAT ITS EFFECT WILL BE. what its effect will be.

"The new method," said Mr. Rottmann,
"offers no injustice to the rectifier, nor does it make possible any frauds on the consumer that were not possible before. Besides this, such a change is exactly in line with court decisions recently made in Missouri and other States. Judge Thayer not long since decided in a Government case against a local rectifier that the Government had no authority to punish in cases where the proof, age, etc., of whisky had been changed by a rectifier or dealer after the government gauger had affixed his stamp upon the package. The government had collected its tax upon the actual amount of whisky made and there its duty ended. If a dishonest rectifier sold 80-proof liquor as 90-proof, or 1888 liquor as 1886, he was simply selling goods that were not what he represented them to be, and was subject to prosecution by the customer so defrauded. But it was a business matter between those two, with which the Government 1886, he was simply selling goods that were not what he represented them to be, and was subject to prosecution by the customer so defrauded. But it was a business matter between those two, with which the Government had nothing to do. Similar decisions have been made in other States.

"Under such decisions a Government gauger in a rectifying establishment was plainly superfluous, and consequently the bill changing the internal revenue laws to do away with Government gauging in rectifying houses was drawn up and passed. A District Rectifier cannot now change the proof, age, etc., of his liquor with any more safety than he could before, so that the consumer is in no more danger of fraud. I do not see where the law is unfair to anyone, but I doubt if it will save the Government $100,000 per year, as it necessitates much more work in the Internal Revenue Collector's office. We were notified last Saturday that the law would go into effect yesterday, and our notification stated that further instructions would follow. They have not arrived yet, and consequently the rectifying houses are now working in the dark as to the proper method of adepting the new yetsem. We are only allowed to get stamps from the Internal Revenue Collector's office once daily. This is causing some delay in shipping out goods that may be ordered through the afternoon

The familiar voice of Alex Selkirk thus sounded the knell of a strong ring formed to beat Uncle Sam at an auction. The scene was the green swrad of the Arsenal parade ground, the occasion was one of the annual auction sales of the quartermaster's department of the United States Government; the article on the block, several hundred wail-tents. In front, around and behind Mr. Selkirk was a crowd of over a hunored Morgan street clothes deslers, pawn shop keepers, and dealers in merchandise from every corner of the Mississippi Valley. Most if not all of them were familiar with auctions. Mr. Selkirk panetuated his remark about the broken combination with a knowing smile, which the crowd answered with a laugh.

The sale had opened at 10:30 o'clock in the larke storehose east of the flag-staff. Articles of every kind and description, from arctic gloves to mosquito bars, from a camp kettle to a printing press, were silently awaiting the fall of the hammer, and according to old-time custom the army of buyers labored hard to form a ring strong enough to kill off all outsiders and small buyers and scoop in the lots at ridiculously low prices. The ring selected two or three men to do the bidding, while the others stood idly around and shook their heads at the exorbitant prices, which they could not 'touch.'

POISON AND KNIFE.

Dr. J. R. Loving Uses Both in an Attempt Kill Himself.

About 1 o'clock this afternoon Dr. J. R. Loving attempted to take his life in the office of J. H. Tremly, room No. 18 in the Mechanics' Bank Building, No. 322 Pine street. The doctor called at the office of Mr. Tremly. who is his lawyer, and saw his wife there. Some words were spoken between the two and before Mr. Tremly knew what the doctor intended to do he was surrrised to see him drink some kind of a liquid. doctor then pulled out a knife and, it is alleged, tried to cut his throat. Mr. Tremly grabbed the man and called for help. The occupants of the offices directly opposite rushed in the room and took the knife away from the man. Police Sergeant Grekory was called in, and when he learned Loving has swallowed a supposed poisnous drug called the patrol wagon and had him removed to the Dispensary. The doctor's attempt to take his life is alleged to have been brought on by family troubles. His wife had separated from him about a week ago. To-day both met by accident in Lawyer Tremly's office. His wife said to him: "Just see what you have done?" and and before any one realized what the doctor's intentions were he put a bottle to his lips and drank somethins. He then threw the bottle to the floor and it broke. He pulled out a knife, but before he could use it, it was taken away from him and the police called.

Lawyer Tremly says he never saw the man until to-day. His wife he knew. She called at the office to try to settle the differences between herself and her husband, when the latter appeared and attempted to take his life. As soon as the patrol wagon appeared Mrs. Loving accompanied her husband into the wagon to the Dispensary.

It was found that Loving had taken poison, but he had not taken enough to kill himself. As he was in no danger and appeared to be suffering some from stimulants, he was taken from the Dispensary to the Four Courts and locked up. then pulled out a knife and, it is alleged, tried to cut his throat,

FIELD OF POLITICS.

Buchanan's Candidacy Complicates Mat

Arkansas Candidates in Joint Debate Carnahan May Withdraw From the Contest-A Republican Majority Divided-Out of the Race-Politics.

of Gov. Buchanan's announcement as an in-dependent candidate for Governor of Ten-nessee at the coming election, Chairman W. H. Carroll of the State Democratic Ex-ecutive Committee, said to a reporter last

"I was of the opinion, and it is confirmed, that the Democracy made no mistake when it refused to renominate Gov. Buchanan. The issue that is now presented is not unexpected. Gov. Buchanan's candidacy means pected. Gov. Buchanan's candidacy means that he will receive the support of the third party. He is no stronger than any other candidate of that party would have been. The thinking masses of the country believe their lives and liberty and property will be safe under Mr. Cleveland as President and their dissensions in the South only add to his strength in the North and East. We propose to meet all issues fairly and present the true situation from a Democratic standpoint with kindness and good temper, and fully assured that the principles of the Democratic party will be upheld in Tennessee. The intelligible differences in opinion will be discussed with charity to those who differ from us. We feel that we shall convince the intelligent voters that the prosperity of the whole people can only be secured by the election of Mr. Cleveland and the other Democratic nominees.

"The masses have no prospect of relief from the enormous taxation that paralyzes their energies and robs them of their earnings, except through Democratic triumph. The firesides of the country would be happy with Mr. Cleveland again in the White House to administer the presidency as a public trust within the constitution and to restore commercial credit and confidence. If there is bitterness in the coming campaign in this that he will receive the support of the third commercial credit and confidence. If there is bitterness in the coming campaign in this State the Democracy will not be responsible for it or a party to it. The reason, and not the passion, of voters will be appealed to. Our candidates guarantee to the electors that their election means honest and economical administration, national and State.

ARKANSAS CAMPAIGN. GUBERNATORIAL CANDIDATES IN JOINT DIS-CUSSION.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Aug. 16 .- The guberna torial candidates spoke yesterday at Wilmot, a little town in Little River County. It was the first time that candidates for Governor ever spoke in that county. The meeting tool place in a five-acre grove, which was crowded, over 5,000 being present, the place in a five-acre grove, which was crowded, over 5,000 being present, the largest audience addressed by the candidates since the inauguration of the canvass. Prof. Carnahan, the People's party candidate, delivered an address in which he charged that the Democratic press of Arkansas was being edited by renegade Republicans, and made a speech more favorable to the Republicans than the party he represents. It is rumored to-day that Cannahan, who has failed to develop any strength in the campaign, will withdraw from the race for Governor about a week before the election, which occurs on Sept. 6, leaving the contest to be settled by Whipple, Republican, and Fishback, Democrat. This will be the result of a trade between the third party people and the Republicans, the latter agreeing to support J. B. Suttler, editor of the People's party organ, for Congress in this district against the Democratic nominee, Col. W. L. Terry. In the election two years ago the counties comprising the Fourth District gave 17,267 Democratic and 10,355 Republican votes. The Republicans claim that with the support of the third party people enough votes can be drawn from the Democratic column to elect Suttler. The truth of the matter is there are fewer third party advocates in this district than in any in the State, and Democrats are counting on at least 7,000 majority for Terry.

The returns from Boone County show that Peel has carried the county by 135 plurality.

A REPUBLICAN SPLIT.

PINE BLUFF, Aug. 16.—Politics are warming up here very much. This county is largely Republican, but for years there has been a compromise between Democrats and Republicans. This year the Republican party is split. The Lemocratic party recently divided with Republicans, nomination pro rata. There is some dissatisfaction at this and some division. The split in the Republican party does not affect the Democratic part of the ticket, but a terrific war is going on with the Republicans, each wing having their part of the compromise ticket with different candidates. The battle in the town and country is strong. Indications point to the election of the men of the Republican wing indorsed by the Democratic Convention. To-night a rousing Democratic meeting will be held under the auspices of the Cleveland and Stevenson Club and then James Jordan will deliver an address appealing to Democratic to stand by the Democratic Convention.

If the Fight Is Private His Chances Are Slim-McCaffrey Takes Corbett Up-Peffer to Leave the Louisville Club-Von der Ahe's New Discovery Pitches a Good Game-Sporting News.

Interest in the Sullivan-Corbett fight is dwarfing all other sporting events, but an international contest of a great deal more than ordinary importance is the one between Jim Hall, lately of Sydney, N. S. W., but now a Chicagoan, and Ted Pritchard, holder of the middleweight and heavyweight cham-pionship of England, which, according to the schedule, will take place in or near London next Monday. The fight will probably take place in private as there is considerable doubt about the financial standing of the Boling-broke Club, whose directors offered a $5,000 about the financial standing of the Bolingbroke Club, whose directors offered a $5,000 purse.

Of all the Australian athletes who have come to the land of Uncle Sam to seek fame and fortune, none has been better received by American sportsmen than this same Jim Hall. Although he has engaged in no finish contests since he left the colonies, Jim has taken the fancy of leading sporting men and his name has been placed in line with all the up-toppers of the ring.

No cleverer boxer of his weight has ever been seen in America, but Fitzsimmons is about on a par with Hall in this particular. In view of Fitz's performances here it is a remarkable thing that the dapper Hall should have quite as strong a following as the man whose rival he was in Australia and this country. Many men who had begun to take lots of stock in Hall wondered why he went to England, ostensibly on a pleasure trip, when he could have fought Fitzsimmons here for a big purse.

This mistake was not Hall's. "Parson" Davies insisted that Fitz should stick to his original agreement to fight in November. Fitz wouldn't. Then Davies declined to allow Hall to fight in September, and the latter was guided by his manager's rulings. But that is all past and gone and Jim Hall has taken on what may prove a hard Job, the reward for which in case he should complete it will be comparatively small. Hall is practically an American citizen, but it will be three years before he can vote.

So the battle is really between an adopted American and a native Briton. Hence the sympathies of sportsmen who live under the Stars and Stripes are with Hall. Hall is 6 feet 2 inches tall and will fight at 180 pounds. He has three inches the advantage over Pritchard in height, and besides has a longer reach than the Englishman.

Pritchard is 23 years old, a year younger than the tall fellow from the colonies, the has three inches the advantage over Pritchard in height, and besides has a longer reach than the Englishman.

M'CAFFREY IS GAME. New York, Aug. 16.—In reply to the offer of Jim Corbett to pay Dominick McCaffrey $250 for each round he stayed in a boxing contest the latter had this to say to a WORLD reporter last night: "If the Manhattan Athletic Club will permit me to box Corbett in the gymnasium of the club or at Madison Square Garden I will cheerfully accommodate the Californian I will now him four rounds to rounds."

more I will bet him my year's salary that he cannot stop me in four rounds."

St. Louis base ball players experienced a new sensation yesterday. It was a pleasurable one. Mr. Emerson Hawley of Fort Smith, Ark., was the efficient cause. It was his inaugural appearance on the nome grounds, and a victory which was of his own making will be pleasurably remembered in connection with the event.

Predicting a pitcher's future from his first appearance is e matter tinged with uncertainty, but Hawley has in him all the elements of success. He is largy of frame, muscular, athletic. In appearance he reminds one strongly of Etton Chamberlain. His manner of delivery is unique. His speed is superinduced not by a leap in the air, spinal contortions or the Delsartean raising of the arms, so popular this year. He faces the batter with an alluring smile, the right arm goes straight back over his head; his body rises to its extreme height on his tip-toes, the arm and body come down with a quick jerk and the bail shoots across the plate. It is a catapult motion, seductive in its simplicity.

Ward, Brouthers, Burns and Daly are a quartette of sluggers that would make an ordinary pitcher quali, but they could not knock the perennial smile off Hawley's visage yesterday. There is but one thing to criticise in his work. He is still a trifle amateurish in watching the bases, but experience will remedy this. In the meanwhite his excreme coolness at critical moments makes ample amends.

Clean, sharp fielding and Hawley's effective his inaugural appearance on the home

Clean, sharp fielding and Hawley's effective work earned the victory for St. Louis yesterday. The score was tied up to the ninth inning, when Caruthers got his base on balls, went to second on Crooks' sacrifice, stole third and scored the winning run on Haddock's poor handling of Hawley's slow ground ball. Mr. Von der Ahe is of the opinion that Gleason has an offer from another club and wants his has an offer from another club and wants his release. Wolf and Kuehne, formerly of the Louisville Club, have been telegraphed for, and will arrive here to-day. Just how he expects to strengthen the team by them is not plain. As intimated in, last night's Posr-Disparch there was nothing in the rumor that Mr. Von der Ahe and Caruthers had fallen out. Both gentlemen pronounced it a fake.

PFEFFER'S KICK.

PFEFFER'S KICK. LOUISVILLE, Ky., Aug. 16.—It is exceedingly probable that Fred Pfeffer will wear a Louisville uniform but a few days longer. The trouble arises from the $2,000 advance him by the Chicago Associa-Club. Pfeffer's salary calls for $4,000, but says nothing of the $2,000 which the Louisville club paid the League. Piesfer was notified several days ago that the amount would be deducted from his salary and he announced that rather than submit to it he would quit playing ball. by many has only the phenomenal Lamplighter to question his right to the 3-year-old supremacy, is asked to give away big lumps of weight to his competitors. With the crushing impost of 129 pounds upon him over the crucial cup distance there will be ample opportunity to see whether or not his trainer, Matt Brynes, was right when he said the son of Iroquois was a greater colt even than was Salvator. However, the trainers of Pepper and Huron have hopes of victory, and believe that with twelve pounds difference in the weights they have a real chance of beating him. The handsome daughter of Thora, Yorkville Belle, too, will give us a sample of what our greatest filly can do with our best colts. The number of St. Louisans who are making the tour of Europe is larger than ever before. At all the principal continental resorts the residents of this city are to be found in large numbers, and a St. Louisan nearly everywhere finds himself in the mids of friends. At a single hotel in Venice, the Britanin-Venise, every guest of the hundred who patronized that hostelry was an American. The St. Louisans among them were F. W. Humphrey, wife and family; W. C. Steigers, Leou L. Hull, wife and daughter, Miss Nellie Hull, and Prof. C. P. Curd of the Washington University in charge of a party of students. This party consisted of J. D. Perry Lewis, Thomas S. Mamitt, Ray Carter, Eigh S. Brooks, Julius A. Bayer and W. W. Mulford. The boys are enjoying themselves exceedingly, and all are well. From Venice they went to Florence, Naples and Rome, while the rest of the St. Louisans took their departure for Milan, Geneva, the Italian lakes, Paris and London. On Aug. 20 Tony Faust, W. C. Steigers, and David Nicholson sail for the United States on the Augusta Victoria. On Aug. 3 the following St. Louisans were at the Schweizerhof at Wiesbaden: S. S. Blackweil and wife, Mrs. Moses Rumsey, Miss Marion Rumsey, Miss Elmar Rumsey, Miss Marion Rumsey, Miss Elmar Rumsey, Miss Nettle Green, Mrs. Frank B. Filley, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Bascome, Master Charles Bascome, F. W. Humphrey, wife and children, Maj. B. D. Lee, H. L. Edmunds, Leon L. Hull and wife and W. C. Steigers. an American. The St. Louisans among them with him. The opinion before the race, as expressed by the talent, was that the contest would be between Pepper, Mars and Tammany and that there would be a royal struggle between them for the $20,000 purse. The first two have met twice this year, first in the Realization Stakes at Sheepshead Bay when Tammany with 119 pounds up gave Pepper four pounds, and won easily by a length, and again in the Lorillard Stakes when at even weights Tammany won in a gallop by a length and a half. Garrison will rice Tammany and he will be in good condition to do so. Lee, H. L. Edmund and W. C. Stelgers.

The cold wave that was to have reached St Louis this evening will, in all probability fail to materialize, it having become heated on the way from Montana. The weather will probably be a little cooler to-morrow, but not much. The low temperature extended but a short distance from its point of origin, and will have little effect in this city. There are no signs of rain in any direction, and there is a reasonable assurance of fair weather.

Mrs. Reinhardt Bohn, who lives with her husband at No. 1713 North Twelfth street, called upon Assistant Prosecuting Attorney Estep yesterday and stated that in November last Mrs. Mary Brasse, her mother, then 58 years old, married Joseph Forsythe, who was 62 years of age. There Mrs. Bohn states Forsythe became enraged and had her husband and her 5-year-old son who accompanied her arrested for an alleged assault. They were kept in the holdover for twelve hours before being released. They brought Mrs. Forsythe back to St. Louis. Mrs. Bohn wanted Forsythe brought back to St. Louis on a charge of false imprisonment, but Mr. Estep advised that a divorce pending would more satisfactorily settle matters. three shots at him. Burke went to the brick yards at Twentieth and Prairie avenue, where the prisoner is employed and, the latter alleges, fired two shots at him. Anderson claimed furthermore that Burke waylaid him last night and forced him to shoot in self-defense. An officer was sent to the place where Anderson said he did the shooting and found Burke in the street with a builet wound near the navel, entering into the intestines. The wounded man was removed to the Dispensary and thence to the City Hospital. His injuries are fatal. Burke contradicts Anderson's statements. He alleges that they had a quarrel Sunday night and he armed himself for self-defense. Anderson was too quick for him, he said, when they met last night, and fired four shots at him.

Dean of No. 144 West Forty-eighth street, New York, up for consultation Sunday. Dr. Tilden said last night that Gen. Husted's heart, liver and kidneys are all affected. The main trouble is intestinal nephritis, a form of Bright's disease. The General suffered all Saturday night from severe coughing paroxysms, but they left him Sunday. His present condition is the result of an attack of pleurisy following his illness at Minneapolis. The doctor said last night that there was a possibility of recovery, but Mr. Husted was a very sick man. The patient rested quietly yesterday and was slightly improved as compared with Sunday.

Dr. Tilden did not think it necessary to sit up with the General last night.
